

Club Notes:

October 2010

This has been a very busy month for us as Sweet Dreams Quilt Studio. Our customers have been busy quilting all those special quilts for the fall quilt shows, and have even begun working on Christmas gift quilts.

The Georgette's Legacy Crib Quilt whole cloth quilt was a special request....often when you're running a quilting business, you don't have the time to piece AND quilt those baby quilt gifts. This is a beautiful time management solution!

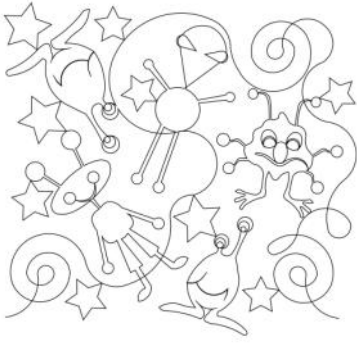

There seem to be a plethora of quilt samplers featuring those 6" blocks....so there are more patterns (the Civil War –CW patterns). Also the flower curl patterns are specially designed

The Ruby Emperor contains 92
patterns,
including 24 panos,
a retail value of $1040.00!!!

It took us awhile to get it done, but you can now keep up with new patterns, Crown Jewels Club release dates, photos from our customers.... We'll be using it to make announcements to our longarm quilting customers and share ideas and kudos among us all!

The three new Dresden plate patterns were created first as separate pieces. Although shown here combined, you can also use the individual patterns for blocks other than the namesake block.

This layout features the Ruby Emperor Snowflake patterns.

Changes

Sweet Dreams Quilt Studio has made some pattern distribution changes lately, which only affect Statler Stitcher users. Beginning October 1st, no Pattern Bundles or Crown Jewels Club archives will be available for automatic download. Instead, those purchases will be emailed to you just as soon as we can get to them. The auto encryption system "iStatler" (developed by, owned by, and maintained by Gammill) was experiencing volume difficulties. Their solution was so costly that it was a convenience that we could no longer provide for Bundles and Archives without passing that cost along to our customers and we simply were not willing to do that. So regular pattern orders will continue to be available for auto download....you'll just have to wait a bit for the rest.

We do encourage all of you (not just Statler users) to join our Facebook group and watch for announcements about the Crown Jewels Club.

Email Spam Tip:

If you are using an email program such as Outlook Express, Microsoft Outlook, etc. to manage your email, you already know about the "junk" folder that shows up listed under your Inbox. But did you know that your Internet Service Provider also has another spam/junk folder which collects emails before they ever reach your Outlook Express or MS Outlook? How do you find it? Go to the web page of your ISP (for example, my personal email account is with CenturyLink) So, I go to www.centurylink.com, and click on the "web mail" link. I have to enter my user name and password, but then I can see my emails even if I'm not using my own computer. I can also see that ISP provided spam box. Take a look through that spam/junk box and see if it has any of your missing emails in it. If it does, you should be able to mark those emails as "not junk". That will help future emails from those senders actually make it to your computer. I can do the same thing for my AOL email account....just go to the www.aol.com, log into web mail, and check out the junk/spam folders. It will surprise you what's in there!
